Oklahoma State Department of Health
Sanitarian & Environmental Specialist Program
PO Box 268815
Oklahoma City, OK 73126-881

To whom It my concern,

I am writing to confirm that Lloyd Luapula is an employee of the Indian Health Service, Oklahoma City Area office of Environmental Health and Engineering. He has been working as a Sanitarian since 2019 to present, and has been working 40 hours a week as a full time employee.

The following duties have been performed:

- Manage a comprehensive environmental health services program that serves four American Indian tribes and federal facilities within the assigned area.
- Conduct environmental health and safety surveys of food establishments and retail food stores; institutional facilities such as schools, youth shelters, half-way houses, health centers, hospitals and residential care, sanitary facilities such as community water sewer, and solid waste sites, community injury prevention and vector control.
- Provided technical assistance to tribal officials, tribal citizens, IHS Staff, and other federal agencies in wide spectrum of environmental health topics including: water supply, waste water disposal, food protection, institutional health and safety, vector control and zoonotic diseases, recreational environments, epidemiology, safety management and industrial hygiene, emergency preparedness, operation and maintenance of sanitation facilities, residential environments, and community injury prevention.

Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns regarding the above.

Sincerely,

Danny Walters
