able to qualify for the next Olympics.
And have been following Darci Lynne with her very busy schedule of appearance around the country since she won America's Got Talent a couple of years ago.

I am reading the book by James Patterson "Juror #3". This is a very good read book. It is very difficult to put the book down because it sure captures my attention. I sure do not have time for the television and news from Washington which is very rewarding.
Also trying to read, "Achilles in Vietnam: Combat don't know if God made him a preacher so he would be a good director. But we do know that David has taken up the cross that God has laid before him and has been a good and faithful servant."

As he passes the torch, Schlessman wished to extend sincere appreciation and gratitude to David and all the years he has devoted and the hours upon hours he spent away from home serving this facility and this community.
"Thank you does not seem fitting enough but we truly thank you! David plans to take some time off and then continue to take a limited amount of call to help out. David's last day as Director was January 17, please join us in congratulating David on his retirement," Schlessman noted.

until they are able to go 24 hours without a fever, and without fever-reducing medication.

Trauma and the Undoing of Character' by Jonathan Shay.
(Ed. note. My ship made the trip two times to give off shore support to the troops in Vietnam with their three 5 inch guns. One was during the offense that the North Vietnamese tried to take over the South. We were still looked down upon thanks to people like Hanoi Jane Fonda.)
The book "The Lost Patrol (Lost Starship series Book 5)' by Vaughn Heppner is different but a SciFi book.
Another book "American Moonshot Young Readers' Edition: John F. Kennedy and the Great Space Race" pretty much captured my attention
Other books I am reading and will pass along.
I decided to read many different books and is an rewarding choice.
It is interesting to me how the books are written and the subject matter.

The annual 51st Cow Chip Throw will be the 3rd week-
