- (A) A systematic computer generated process that:
 - (i) Identifies those claimants most likely to exhaust regular compensation and will need job search assistance services to make a successful transition to new employment;
 - (ii) Refers identified claimants to reemployment services; and

- (B) Data elements which may be used in the identification process for RESEA selection are:
 - (i) Recall status;
 - (ii) Union hiring hall agreement;
 - (iii) Education;
 - (iv) Job tenure;
 - (v) Industry;

- (vi) Occupation;
- (vii) Unemployment rate;
- (viii) Number of prior UI claims; and
- (ix) Maximum weekly benefit amount.

"Temporary help firm" means any firm or entity that hires its own employees and assigns them to clients to support or supplement the client's work force in work situations such as employee absences, temporary skill shortages, seasonal workloads, or special assignments and projects.

"Temporary Layoff" means a short term cessation of work or employment in which the employer maintains an attachment to an employee by means of a recall date. A temporary layoff may be requested by an employer for no more than eight (8) weeks in any benefit year. A request for a temporary layoff must be made by the employer to the Commission in writing and must include a specific recall date within eight (8) weeks of the cessation of work or employment. The employer may apply to the Commission for an extension of the recall date. The extension shall not exceed four (4) additional weeks in the benefit year.

"Temporary Layoff-Federal" means a short-term cessation of work or employment in cases involving a federal agency or federal contractor with employees who have agreed to refrain from seeking employment elsewhere as part of their terms of employment when work is ceased due to the needs of the federal government, and the federal employer or federal contractor maintains an attachment to an employee by means of its contract of employment. In these cases, a recall date will not be required. The provisions of 40 O.S. §2-105.1 on reimbursed pay or back pay shall apply to this type of temporary layoff.

"Third Party Administrator" means any entity that contracts with an employer to perform administrative functions on the employer's behalf related to the employer's compliance with any provision of the Employment Security Act of 1980, or any entity that contracts to represent the employer's interests in any protests, appeal or hearing before any division of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission or the Board of Review. Attorneys licensed to practice law in Oklahoma who represent clients before the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission, or the Board of Review shall not be considered third party administrators.

"Wages"

(A) "Gratuities" or "Tips" The employer shall include as wages all monies paid as gratuities or tips received by an

Section 1-218(6).

"Wages paid"

(A) The term "wages paid", as defined in 40 O.S. Section 1-219, shall include both wages actually received by the worker and wages constructively paid. Wages shall be considered constructively paid when they are credited to the account of or set apart for a worker so that they may be drawn upon by the worker at any time although not then actually in the worker's possession. A mere crediting of the wages to the worker's account, without actually making them available to the worker so that they may be drawn upon by him/her at any time, does not constitute constructive payment.

(B) In the case of an employer who terminates his/her coverage as of January 1st of some year, the term "wages paid" shall include all wages earned for all pay periods up to and including the last payroll period ending in that year, at the end of which, the employer's coverage is terminated.

(C) "Wages paid" to the worker are to be reported in the calendar quarter in which they were actually paid.

240:10-1-3. Time computation

(a) In computing any period of time prescribed or allowed by the Employment Security Act of 1980, by these rules, or by order of a hearing officer, the day of the act, event, or default from which the designated period of time begins to run shall not be included. All intervening days falling between the beginning and end of the time period shall be counted, including Saturdays, Sundays, holidays and any day the offices of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission are closed for part or all of the day. Time computation shall be calculated utilizing calendar days without exception for time periods less than eleven (11) days, and the last day of the period so computed shall be included, unless it is a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday as defined by the Oklahoma Statutes, an Executive Order, or the Federal Statutes, or any other day when the offices of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission do not remain open for public business until 4:00 p.m., in which event the period runs until the end of the next day which is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday as defined by the Oklahoma Statutes, an Executive Order, or the Federal Statutes or any other day when the offices of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission do not remain open for public business until 4:00 p.m.

240:10-1-4. Electronic signatures

(a) The term "electronic signature" means an electronic sound, symbol, text or process, attached to or logically associated with a document required to be filed by the Employment Security Act of 1980 or these rules, and executed or adopted by a person with the intent to sign the document.

(b) An electronic signature will have the same meaning and significance as would a handwritten signature that is affixed to an equivalent paper document. If an applicable law or rule requires a handwritten signature on a document, an electronic signature shall satisfy that requirement.

(c) The intent of a person or entity to sign a document shall be conclusively established if the signature is made on a certification page that is protected by a user ID and password. For all electronic signatures made outside of the certification page protocol, the electronic signature of the person or entity on a document will create a rebuttable presumption that the signature is valid and intended as a signature.

240:10-1-5. Filing by electronic means

(a) If an individual or entity files a document by electronic means, this shall constitute implied consent for the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission to notify and deliver documents to that party by the same electronic means.

(b) An individual or entity who files by electronic means shall retain the original source document in its possession or control for a period of four (4) years and during the pendency of any legal proceedings involving the document, whichever is longer. The document shall be retained in exactly the same format and content as transmitted and shall be produced upon request by the Commission, an administrative law judge or any party to the legal proceedings. Upon failure to produce the original source document when requested, the Commission or an administrative law judge may refuse to consider the document as a properly filed instrument.

(c) The Oklahoma Employment Security Commission shall not be responsible for events that disrupt or render impossible the receipt of documents transmitted electronically.

240:10-1-7. Independent Contractors/Employees - 20 Factor Test

Independent contractors are not subject to the control of an employer. Employees are subject to the control of an employer. The issue in a worker classification case is, "whether sufficient control is present to establish an employer-employee relationship" in a particular situation. The existence of an employer's control of an individual, or lack thereof, shall be decided using the twenty-factor test used by the Internal Revenue Service of the United States Department of Treasury in Revenue Ruling 87-41, 1987-1 C.B. 296.

(1) The twenty factors set out in Revenue Ruling 87-41 are as follows:

(A) Instructions. A worker who is required to comply with other persons' instructions about when, where, and how he or she is to work is ordinarily an employee. This control factor is present if the person or persons for whom the services are performed have the right to require compliance with instructions.

(B) Training. Training a worker by requiring an experienced employee to work with the worker, by corresponding with the worker, by requiring the worker to attend meetings, or by using other methods, indicates that the person or persons for whom the services are performed want the services performed in a particular method or manner.

(C) Integration. Integration of the worker's services into the business operations generally shows that the worker is subject to direction and control. When the success or continuation of a business depends to an appreciable degree upon the performance of certain services, the workers who perform those services must necessarily be subject to a certain amount of control by the owner of the business.

(D) Services Rendered Personally. If the services must be rendered personally, presumably the person or persons for whom the services are performed are interested in the methods used to accomplish the work as well as in the results.

(E) Hiring, Supervising, and Paying Assistants. If the person or persons for whom the services are performed hire, supervise, and pay assistants, that factor generally shows control over the workers on the job. However, if one worker hires, supervises, and pays the other assistants pursuant to a contract under which the worker agrees to provide materials and labor and under which the worker is responsible only for the attainment of a result, this factor indicates an independent contractor status.

(F) Continuing Relationship. A continuing relationship between the worker and the person or persons for whom the services are performed indicates that an employer-employee relationship exists. A continuing relationship may exist where work is performed at frequently recurring although irregular intervals.

(G) Set Hours of Work. The establishment of set hours of work by the person or persons for whom the services are performed is a factor indicating control.

(H) Full Time Required. If the worker must devote substantially full time to the business of the person or persons for whom the services are performed, such person or persons have control over the amount of time the worker spends working and impliedly restrict the worker from doing other gainful work. An independent contractor, on the other hand, is free to work when and for whom he or she chooses.

(I) Doing Work on Employer's Premises. If the work is performed on the premises of the person or persons for whom the services are performed, that factor suggests control over the worker, especially if the work could be done elsewhere. Work done off the premises of the person or persons receiving the services, such as at the office of the worker, indicates some freedom from control. However, this fact by itself does not mean that the worker is not an employee. The importance of this factor depends on the nature of the service involved and the extent to which an employer generally would require that employees perform such services on the employer's premises. Control over the place of work is indicated when the person or persons for whom the services are performed have the right to compel the worker to travel a designated route, to canvass a territory within a certain time, or to work at specific places as required.

(J) Order or Sequence Set. If a worker must perform services in the order or sequence set by the person or persons for whom the services are performed, that factor shows that the worker is not free to follow the worker's own pattern of work but must follow the established routines and schedules of the person or persons for whom the services are performed. Often, because of the nature of an occupation, the person or persons for whom the services are performed do not set the order of the services or set the order infrequently. It is sufficient to show control, however, if such person or persons retain the right to do so.

(K) Oral or Written Reports. A requirement that the worker submit regular or written reports to the person or persons for whom the services are performed indicates a degree of control.

(L) Payment by Hour, Week, Month. Payment by the hour, week, or month generally points to an employer-employee relationship, provided that this method of payment is not just a convenient way of paying a lump sum agreed upon as the cost of a job. Payment made by the job or on a straight commission generally indicates that the worker is an independent contractor.

(M) Payment of Business and/or Traveling Expenses. If the person or persons for whom the services are performed ordinarily pay the worker's business and/or traveling expenses, the worker is ordinarily an employee. An employer, to be able to control expenses, generally retains the right to regulate and direct the worker's business activities.

(N) Furnishing of Tools and Materials. The fact that the person or persons for whom the services are performed furnish significant tools, materials, and other equipment tends to show the existence of an employer-employee relationship.

(O) Significant Investment. If the worker invests in facilities that are used by the worker in performing services and are not typically maintained by employees (such as the maintenance of an office rented at fair value from an unrelated party), that factor tends to indicate that the worker is an independent contractor. On the other hand, lack of investment in facilities indicates dependence on the person or persons for whom the services are performed for such facilities and, accordingly, the existence of an employer-employee relationship. Special scrutiny is required with respect to certain types of facilities, such as home offices.

(P) Realization of Profit or Loss. A worker who can realize a profit or suffer a loss as a result of the worker's services (in addition to the profit or loss ordinarily realized by employees) is generally an independent contractor, but the worker who cannot is an employee. For example, if the worker is subject to a real risk of economic loss due to significant investments or a bona fide liability for expenses, such as salary payments to unrelated employees, that factor indicates that the worker is an independent contractor. The risk that a worker will not receive payment for his or her services, however, is common to both independent contractors and employees and thus does not constitute a sufficient economic risk to support treatment as an independent contractor.

(Q) Working for More Than One Firm at a Time. If a worker performs more than de minimis services for a multiple of unrelated persons or firms at the same time, that factor generally indicates that the worker is an independent contractor. However, a worker who performs services for more than one person may be an employee of each of the persons, especially where such persons are part of the same service arrangement.

(R) Making Service Available to General Public. The fact that a worker makes his or her services available to the general public on a regular and consistent basis indicates an independent contractor relationship.

(S) Right to Discharge. The right to discharge a worker is a factor indicating that the worker is an employee and the person possessing the right is an employer. An employer exercises control through the threat of dismissal, which causes the worker to obey the employer's instructions. An independent contractor, on the other hand, cannot be fired so long as the independent contractor produces a result that meets the contract specifications.

(T) Right to Terminate. If the worker has the right to end his or her relationship with the person for whom the services are performed at any time he or she wishes without incurring liability, that factor indicates an employer-employee relationship.

(2) Revenue Ruling 87-41 states that the degree of importance of each factor in subparagraph (a) varies depending on the occupation and the factual context in which the services are performed. The twenty factors in subparagraph (a) are designed only as guides for determining whether an individual is an employee; special scrutiny is required in applying the twenty factors to assure that formalistic aspects of an arrangement designed to achieve a particular status do not obscure the substance of the arrangement; that is, whether the person or persons for whom the services are performed exercise sufficient control over the individual for the individual to be classified as an employee.

(3) Revenue Ruling 87-41 states that when making a classification determination using the twenty factors set out in subparagraph (a), the relationship of employer and employee exists when the person or persons for whom the services are performed have the right to control and direct the individual who performs the services, not only as to the result to be accomplished by the work but also as to the details and means by which that result is accomplished. That is, an employee is subject to the will and control of the employer not only as to what shall be done but as to how it shall be done. In this connection, it is not necessary that the employer actually direct or control the manner in which the services are performed; it is sufficient if the employer has the right to do so.

(b) In order to cancel a claim, the claimant shall submit a request to cancel the claim in writing to the Commission. The claimant must certify that the cancellation of the claim was not induced by duress, coercion, or the promise of the payment of money or other consideration by a third party.

PART 5. ELIGIBILITY

240:10-3-20. Instructions to secure work

(a) Able and available to accept employment. When a claimant files an initial claim for benefits, the Commission shall instruct the claimant that, in addition to registering for work in the Oklahoma labor exchange system or the system in the state in which the claimant resides, the claimant must diligently search for suitable employment.

(b) Seek and accept work. The Commission shall require claimants to diligently search for work in a prudent manner that would be expected to secure work using any means that are appropriate and suitable each week. A diligent work search requires that a claimant make the minimum number of weekly work search contacts as required by the OESC and consists of some combination of the following elements:

- (1) Union members must be registered with the hiring hall or placement facility of their labor union and be a member in good standing.
- (2) Participation in reemployment services offered to the claimant by the Commission or any other State Employment Service.
- (3) Submit weekly job applications for work with suitable employers.
- (4) Register for work, create, and upload a resume with the state's labor exchange system, job boards, placement service of any professional organization the claimant is a member of, temporary work agencies, or educational institution with job placement offices;
- (5) Participate in scheduled reemployment services offered by the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission in Workforce Oklahoma Centers or complete similar online or self-service activities.

- (6) Participate in employment and training services provided by partner programs in Workforce Oklahoma Centers;
- (7) Participate in work-related networking events sponsored by the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission (e.g., job clubs, job fairs, industry association events, networking groups, etc.);
- (8) Taking a civil service exam or examinations for work in a governmental agency;
- (9) Participate in interviews with employers (virtually or in-person); or
- (10) Any other work search activities prescribed by the Commission.

(c) Increase of work search requirements. The number of work search efforts described in subsection (b) of this rule shall be increased at the discretion of the Commission if the claimant has not received a job offer within the first six (6) weeks of unemployment.

(d) Activity log. The claimant is required to maintain the Commission provided work search activity log, as well as, any associated documentation and make it available for review by Commission representatives, upon request.

(e) Referrals. A claimant who receives job referrals from the Commission that are considered to be appropriate or suitable, as otherwise defined in 40 O.S. §2-408, must apply for the job within one week of receiving the referral, and the claimant must accept employment if suitable work is offered. Claimant may be disqualified to receive benefits pursuant to 40 O.S. §Section 2-417-18.

(f) Waiver of work search requirement. If an employee is involved in a temporary layoff, a temporary layoff-federal, or is receiving supplemental unemployment benefit payments through an approved plan, the work search requirement is met if the employee maintains an attachment to the employer and remains available to return to work for the employer. The work registration requirement of 40 O.S. §2-204 and work search requirement of 40 O.S. §2-417 may be waived by the Executive Director in consultation with members of the Senior Staff if it is found that claimants in a specific geographic area or region of the state are prevented from making a reasonable work search as a direct result of natural disaster, pandemic, fire, flood, or explosion.

(g) Work search efforts to the same employer for the same role or position may only be repeated every four (4) weeks. Claimants may search for different roles or positions with the same employer, as desired. If employer initiates a second interview and the claimant completes the interview, the second interview may be considered a work search effort for the claimant.

240:10-3-21. Educational institutions - between academic terms

Pursuant to 40 O.S. §2-209 and 26 U.S.C.A. §3304(a)(6)(A), benefits based on service and employment defined in 40 O.S. §1-210(3) or (4) shall be payable on the same terms and conditions as benefits payable on the basis of other service subject to the Employment Security Act of 1980, except that individuals providing services to an educational institution shall not be paid benefits based on services to the educational institution for any week of unemployment commencing during the period between two successive academic years or terms, if the individual performs services in the first academic year or term and there is a contract or a reasonable assurance that the individual will perform services for the educational institution in the second academic year or term. A determination of the denial of benefits between an academic year or term shall be made based on the following subsections of this rule:

(1) Prerequisites. Before making a determination concerning the existence of a contract or reasonable assurance of employment in the following academic year or term, the Commission representative must find that three prerequisites exist. If any one of the three prerequisites are not met, unemployment benefits must be allowed. The three prerequisites are:

(A) An offer of employment. The offer may be written, oral or implied. The offer must be genuine and made by an individual with authority to offer the employment.

(B) The employment offered in the following academic year or term must be in the same capacity as that of the previous academic year or term.

(C) The economic conditions of the job offered in the following academic year or term may not be considerably less than the conditions present in the previous academic year or term. If the claimant is offered a salary or wage for the following academic year or term that is less than 90% of the salary or wage paid in the previous academic year or term, this shall be considered economic conditions that are considerably less from the previous to the following academic year or term.

(2) The term "contract" means an enforceable, non-contingent agreement that provides for compensation: (i) for an entire academic year; or (ii) on an annual basis, though the contract terms describing compensation are not expressed as an annual salary.

(3) The term "reasonable assurance" means that there is a high probability that employment will be available based on the totality of circumstances and contingent nature of the offer made to the claimant. The following rules apply in making the determination:

(A) If the offer of employment contains a contingency, the Commission representative must determine if the contingency is within the employer's control or not in the employer's control. If the offer of employment is contingent upon a factor within the employer's control, such as course programming, allocation of funding, final course offerings, program changes, and faculty availability, the claimant does not have reasonable assurance and benefits shall be allowed. If the offer of employment is contingent on factors outside of the employer's control such as enrollment levels, legislative funding, or seniority, this would be considered to not be in the employer's control and further examination of the facts is required.

(B) If the employer's offer to a claimant contains a contingency that is not in the employer's control, the Commission representative must examine the contingent nature of the offer. The Commission representative must give primary weight to the contingency when making the determination on the claim. If the Commission representative finds that it is highly probable that the contingency will be met, that is, the issue upon which the contingency is based will probably be concluded in a way that will allow employment to occur in the next academic year or term, then reasonable assurance can be found. If it is not highly probable that the contingency will be met, that is, there is a good probability the contingency will be resolved in a way that will prevent employment from occurring in the next academic year or term, then reasonable assurance cannot be found.

(C) The Commission representative must analyze the totality of circumstances for each offer of employment to determine whether it is highly probable that there will be a job available for the claimant in the following academic year or term. This element requires considering factors such as legislative appropriations, funding levels, enrollment, the nature of the course of study to be taught, the claimant's seniority, budgeting and assignment practices of the school, the number of offers made in relation to the number of potential teaching assignments, the period of student registration, and any other contingencies. In order to find that there is reasonable assurance, the Commission representative is required to find, through evidence presented by the employer and the claimant, that it is highly probable that a job is available in the next academic year or term. In making a determination of reasonable assurance, the Commission representative is not required to find that there is a certainty of a job.

(4) Employer requirements.

(A) If the educational institution employer did not enter into a formal employment contract with the claimant, the employer shall submit a written statement to the Commission representative explaining the manner in which the employee was given a reasonable assurance of employment in the following academic period or term. The employer shall state whether the assurance was given in writing, orally, or implied through other means. The employer shall state the information that was given to the claimant about the offer of employment in the next academic year or term, including contingencies.

(B) If the educational institution employer entered into a formal employment contract with the claimant, the employer shall provide a copy of the contract to the Commission representative.

(C) The educational institution employer will be responsible to provide any other information necessary to make the determination of a contract of employment or reasonable assurance and any other information requested by the Commission representative.

(5) Claimant requirements. The claimant will be responsible to provide sufficient information for the Commission representative to make a determination of reasonable assurance of employment or a contract of employment in the next academic year or term, and the claimant shall provide any information or documents requested by the Commission representative. If services are provided to or on behalf of an educational institution by a private for-profit entity or an entity pursuant to the provisions of 40 O.S. Section 1-210 (3)(4) that is not an educational institution or an educational service agency, the employees providing these services shall not be subject to the terms and conditions as described in 40 O.S. Section 1-210 (1)(2)(3) and (4).

- (1) the individual has been separated from work with his/her last regular employer and the individual has not during the week performed services in employment for any employer; or
- (2) the individual has worked less than full time for some employer and earned less than his/her weekly benefit amount plus $100.00.

(b) Effective date. The effective date of an initial claim, additional initial claim, or a reopened claim shall be the first day of the calendar week in which the individual first files the initial claim, additional initial claim, or reopened claim.

(c) Failure to report/good cause. When the Commission representative determines that a claimant had good cause for failure to report as directed, a claim may be accepted at a later date, not to exceed seven (7) calendar days from the date originally specified for his/her reporting.

(d) Continued claim. A claimant who is filing for benefits under the Interactive Voice Response System or the Internet may file a continued claim provided the claimant files the continued claim within fourteen (14) calendar days from the week ending date of the claim or within fourteen (14) calendar days from the date the continued claim is furnished to the claimant.

(e) Determination of eligibility for benefits. The Employment Security Act of 1980 prescribes the following requirements:

(1) A Commission representative shall determine claimant's eligibility for benefits.

(2) A Commission representative shall accept written and verbal statements from the claimant and the employer.

(3) A Commission representative shall take any action necessary to determine the facts and to determine the rights of both the employer and claimant.

(4) A Commission representative shall write a determination which must include the following:

(A) An explanation of the parties' appeal rights;

(B) A summary of pertinent facts;

(C) The reasons for allowing or denying benefits; and

(D) The conclusion or legal results of the decision.

(5) Any interested party may appeal a determination. The appeal shall be filed with the Commission. When the appeal is filed, all interested parties shall be notified.

(f) In computing any period of time described in this rule, the day of the event from which the designated period of time begins to run shall not be included. All intervening days falling between the beginning and end of the time period shall be counted, including Saturdays, Sundays, holidays and any day the offices of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission are closed for part or all of the day. The last day of the period so computed shall be included. Claimants required to make a filing on a day in which the offices of the Commission are not open shall make the filing through the Internet or by telephone through the Interactive Voice Response system. Failure to file for a claim within the time allowed will result in denial of benefits for that week.

(6) "States" include the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. [40:1-216]

(7) "Week of unemployment" includes any week of unemployment as defined in the law of the liable state from which benefits with respect to such week are claimed.

(c) Registration for work.

Upon completion of the business process transformation, claimants will be able to access their account through the online claimant's portal. It will be the responsibility of the claimant to access its account through the claimant's portal on a regular basis to check for notices concerning unemployment benefit claims that are posted there. This will allow for notification of claim determinations through a secure internet portal that claimants can access through the use of user IDs and passwords. Once completed, the claimant portal, like the employer portal provided for in 240:10-3-54, will create an efficient and secure mode of communication for unemployment benefit claimants.

(1) Each employer must file a quarterly wage report on or before the last day of the month following the calendar quarter to be reported.

(2) At the end of each calendar quarter, the Commission shall assess and notify the reimbursing employer as to the amount of regular and extended benefits paid by the Commission during such quarter that is attributable to service in the employ of such employer.

(3) Said assessment shall be immediately due and payable and shall bear interest after forty-five (45) days from date of statement at the rate of one percent (1%) per month until paid.

(b) Penalties.

(1) If the employer fails or refuses to pay said assessment after same has become delinquent within forty (45) days after written notice for payment has been mailed, a penalty of five percent (5%) of the amount due shall be added to the assessment. [40:3-806 A]

PART 21. RECIPROCAL ARRANGEMENT

240:10-5-100. Employer elections to cover interstate workers

(a) Arrangement. This Section shall govern the Commission in its administrative cooperation with other states subscribing to the Interstate Reciprocal Coverage Arrangement, hereinafter referred to as "the arrangement."

(b) Definitions. The following words and terms, when used in this Section, shall have the following meaning unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Agency" means any officer, board, commission or other authority charged with the administration of the unemployment compensation law of a participating jurisdiction.

"Interested jurisdiction" means any participating jurisdiction to which an election submitted under this Rule is sent for its approval; and "interested agency" means the agency of such jurisdiction.

"Jurisdiction" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, or, with respect to the Federal Government, the coverage of any Federal unemployment compensation law.

"Participating jurisdiction" means a jurisdiction whose administrative agency has subscribed to the arrangement and whose adherence thereto has not terminated.

"Services customarily performed" by an individual in more than one jurisdiction means services performed in more than one jurisdiction during a reasonable period, if the nature of the service gives reasonable assurance that they will continue to be performed in more than one jurisdiction or if such services are required or expected to be performed in more than one jurisdiction under the election.

(c) Submission and approval of coverage elections under the interstate reciprocal coverage arrangement.

(1) Application. Any employing unit may file an election on Form RC-1, to cover under the law of a single participating jurisdiction all of the services performed for him/her by any individual who customarily works for him/her in more than one participating jurisdiction. Such an election may be filed, with respect to an individual, with any participating jurisdiction in which:

- (A) any part of the individual's services are performed;
- (B) the individual has his/her residence; or
- (C) the employing unit maintains a place of business to which the individual's services bear a reasonable relation.

(2) Approval.

(A) The agency of the elected jurisdiction (thus selected and determined) shall initially approve or disapprove the election.

(B) If such agency approves the election, it shall forward a copy thereof to the agency of each other participating jurisdiction specified thereon, under whose unemployment compensation law the individual or individuals in question might, in the absence of such election, be covered. Each such interested agency shall approve or disapprove the election, as promptly as practicable; and shall notify the agency of the elected jurisdiction accordingly.

(C) In case its law so requires, any such interested agency may, before taking such action, require from the electing employing unit satisfactory evidence that the affected employees have been notified of and have acquiesced in, the election.

(3) Disapproval. If the agency of the elected jurisdiction, or the agency of any interested jurisdiction, disapproves the election, the disapproving agency shall notify the elected jurisdiction and the electing employing unit of its action and of its reasons therefor.

(4) Effective only if approved. Such an election shall take effect as to the elected jurisdiction only if approved by its agency and by one or more interested agencies. An election thus approved shall take effect, as to any interested agency, only if it is approved by such agency.

(5) Withdrawal of election. In case any such election is approved only in part, or is disapproved by some of such agencies, the electing employing unit may withdraw its election within ten (10) days after being notified of such action.

(d) Effective period of elections.

(1) Commencement. An election duly approved under this Rule shall become effective at the beginning of the calendar quarter in which the election was submitted, unless the election, as approved, specifies the beginning of a different calendar quarter. If the electing unit requests an earlier effective date than the beginning of the calendar quarter in which the election is submitted, such earlier date may be approved solely as to those interested jurisdictions in which the employer had no liability to pay contributions for the earlier period in question.

(2) Termination.

(A) The application of an election to any individual under this Rule shall terminate, if the agency of the elected jurisdiction finds that the nature of the services customarily performed by the individual for the electing unit has changed, so that they are no longer customarily performed in more than one participating jurisdiction. Such termination shall be effective as of the close of the calendar quarter in which notice of such finding is mailed to all parties affected.

(B) Except as provided in (A) of this paragraph, each election approved hereunder shall remain in effect through the close of the calendar year in which it is submitted, and thereafter until the close of the calendar quarter in which the electing unit gives written notice of its termination to all affected agencies.

(C) Whenever an election under this Rule ceases to apply to any individual, under (A) or (B) of this paragraph, the electing unit shall notify the affected individual accordingly.

(e) Reports and notices by the electing unit.

(1) Notification of affected employees. The electing unit shall promptly notify each individual affected by its approved election, on the Form RC-2 supplied by the elected jurisdiction, and shall furnish the elected agency a copy of such notice.

(2) Notification for proper filing by separated employee. Whenever an individual covered by an election under this Rule is separated from his/her employment, the electing unit shall again notify him/her, forthwith, as to the jurisdiction under whose unemployment compensation law his/her services are covered. If at the time of termination the individual is not located in the elected jurisdiction, the electing unit shall notify him/her as to the procedure for filing interstate benefit claims.

(3) Change in status. The electing unit shall immediately report to the elected jurisdiction any change which occurs in the conditions of employment pertinent to its election, such as cases where an individual's services for the employer cease to be customarily performed in more than one participating jurisdiction or where a change in the work assigned to an individual requires him/her to perform services in a new participating jurisdiction.

(f) Approval of reciprocal coverage elections. The Commission hereby delegates to its Executive Director, Director of Unemployment Insurance, or Chief of Contributions authority to approve or disapprove reciprocal coverage elections in accordance with this Section.

The propounding party shall present his or her arguments and evidence concerning this issue in the form of a brief filed with the Board of Review. If the opposing party objects to the inclusion of the new or additional information into the evidence of the case, the objection shall be set out in a brief in response. Briefing times shall be set by order of the Board of Review.

240:15-3-4. Withdrawal of appeal

The appealing party, with the permission of the Board, may withdraw the appeal at any time prior to a decision being rendered and the Board shall enter a dismissal of the appeal. In such case, the decision of the Appeal Tribunal shall stand as final, conclusive and binding on the parties.

240:15-3-5. Untimely appeals; good cause; notice

The failure to file a timely appeal from an Appeal Tribunal decision may be excused by the Board of Review for good cause shown. The question of whether there is good cause shall be determined by the Board of Review. Good cause is defined as a situation beyond the control of the parties. When an appeal is received untimely and there is no explanation for the late filing, the appellant and the appellee will be notified and the appellant will be given ten (10) days to give an explanation, after which the Board of Review will issue their opinion.

240:25-1-2. Definitions

The following words and terms, when used in this Chapter, shall have the following meaning, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

"Full-time equivalent employees" means those employees who are employed for one full year.

"New employees" means those employees who constitute a net increase in total employment as compared with employment levels prior to the starting date of business expansion and whose employment is directly attributable to such expansion.

SUBCHAPTER 3. PROCEDURAL RULES

240:25-3-1. Certification - new employees hired by new or expanding business

(a) Notification to the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission. The Oklahoma Tax Commission will notify the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission when a new or expanding business has completed a request for tax exemption.

(b) Information required.

(1) As soon as the requesting facility hires the required number of employees as a result of the new or expanded facility, the requesting facility shall furnish to the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission the names, Social Security numbers, job titles and starting dates of employment of each new employee.

(2) At the end of one year, the employer shall again furnish to the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission the names, Social Security numbers, job titles and starting dates of employment of employees who were hired as a result of the new or expanded facility.

(c) Method for counting employees. The counting of new employees shall be determined by comparing the monthly average number of full-time employees for each month during the tax exemption status with the corresponding month of the prior year as substantiated by such reports as may be required by the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission. The Oklahoma Employment Security Commission shall determine the appropriate month which is deemed most representative of meeting the requirements of the statutes.

(d) Notice of certification to new or expanded business. The Oklahoma Employment Security Commission will notify the employer and the Oklahoma Tax Commission by certified mail whether or not the employer has been certified as having hired the required number of full-time equivalent employees.

(e) Appeal process. In the event any party wishes to appeal the certification decision, the party may file an appeal with the Assessment Board. The appeals process shall be the same as that used for the normal tax assessment appeal procedures of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission.
